It only cost 70 bucks at Autozone!!!

John Doe

Great find man! I paid 80 for mine from Advanced Auto Parts!!

Jane Smith

Do those even work?

OMG, are you alright???Jane Doe - 5 minutes ago
Yeah I'm fine. Damaged my bumper on a few spectators, but nothing a few zipties can't fix.

About

Learn the story of EngineRoom

EngineRoom is a social media application for car enthusiasts. It allows users to make posts, make comments, upload pictures of their cars, set a profile picture, and find friends who share car interests. It's a single page, fullstack application that uses React and Redux on the frontend and Node.js, Express, and MongoDB on the backend. The frontend is served by GitHub Pages and the backend runs on Heroku with a managed database provided by MongoDB Atlas. It was designed using Figma.

Handcrafted with ❤️ in Glastonbury, Connecticut.
